Amenability

Andrzej Zuk (Paris 7)

The notion of amenability was introduced by von Neumann in 1929 and became fundamental in the study of asymptotic properties of groups. We present new constructions of amenable groups.